DESCRIPTION:

The current trend of making laptops thinner now means that many of the connectivity options you are used to seeing have been replaced by a single USB Type C socket. Simply attached this unit to the USB Type C connector on the laptop and you will gain a HDMI socket and a USB Type C connector. Please note: The WPD port supports PD2.0, if your device or charger uses a different protocol the charging current will drop to 500mAH or less.
